

PRESS RELEASE

December 2008

QH's Newest Clutch Kit 1st in the Marketplace!

Quinton Hazell announced back in 2007 the Joint Venture with APDT and now, as a direct result of this, QH are ahead of the game once again!

QKT2884AF is the latest addition to the ever increasing clutch kit range on offer from this Midlands based supplier and is believed to be the first aftermarket kit - OE equivalent – of its kind in the marketplace to date. Fitting the Toyota Aygo, Peugeot 107 and the Citroen C1 (1.0 Petrol Engine), this clutch kit also has the benefit of fulfilling the QH Assure Lifetime Guarantee criteria, which means any vehicle owner who has one fitted has peace of mind should they experience a clutch failure that all costs of a further replacement are fully covered.

Len Finlay, Product Manager comments: “At QH we always maintain we are constantly keeping our eyes and ears on market demands, but this latest addition really does prove that. With more and more consumers purchasing these economic smaller vehicles it is only logical they will require a cost effective repair solution should they fail. QH offer a real alternative to the manufacturers OE components and we firmly believe we have the ONLY available alternative product in the aftermarket today.”

For more information, please speak to your local factor or QH Representative.
